VALUES BASED LEADERSHIP THAT WORKS

At the time of his retirement from the Army in 2007, Major General (Ret) Robert W. Mixon, Jr. was Commanding General Division West, First Army and Fort Carson Colorado. Throughout his career of over 30 years of active service, he commanded armor and cavalry units at every level, including platoon, company, battalion, and brigade, held critical staff positions, and led the Army's Task Force Modularity, an integrated team of highly skilled military and civilian experts chartered with changing the Army's force design while at war.

Today, Robert is an active blogger and writer. He has taught leadership in executive education programs at the Olin Business School of Washington University at St. Louis, and the Cox Business School, Southern Methodist University. In December of 2023, he published his latest book, The Power of Being All In, an Amazon #1 Bestseller in 5 leadership categories.
